DEDICATION

Mrs. Catherine D. Towey

Patience . . . Humor . . . Understanding

To Mrs. Catherine D. Towey, who has given unsparingly of her time and effort to guiding us in the preparation of our yearbook, the Class of 1957 gratefully dedicates the Barnacle.

Mrs. Towey, as head of the English department for the past four years, is esteemed by her pupils for her wit and humor, regard for learning, and skill in teaching. Because of her tireless work and help, her friendliness and fun, the students and faculty appreciate her as a valuable and true friend.

In Memoriam

DEAN CARROLL HOLMES
1939-1952

Dear to us always,
Enshrined in each heart,
A classmate who left us —
Now, we, too, depart,
Holding a memory
Of one whom we knew,
Laughing and carefree
Making us gay, too.
Eternal joy be yours, Dean —
So we salute you!

May Eternal joy be yours, Dean.

FACULTY

We Wish Mr. Connor Success and Happiness

Perhaps no member of the faculty is better known by the students than Mr. Bria K. Connor. Firmness, yet fairness, can well be described as his motto. Mr. Connor, a graduate of Barnstable High, has been our assistant principal since 1939 and now goes on as principal of the new high school. We feel certain Mr. Connor's fine qualities will make him successful in his new post.

MR. BRIAH K. CONNOR

English, Mathematics, Science

We are greatly indebted to our class adviser, Mr. Harry Vatousiou, for the financial and social success we have enjoyed our senior year. Mr. Vatousiou, whose enthusiasm has stimulated all of us, has proved to be a "financial wizard" for our class.

MR. HARRY VATOUSIOU

To Mr. William B. Fratus, whose determination and drive have been responsible for the success of the advertising staff, we owe much thanks. We appreciate his encouragement and the time he has devoted to the financial needs of the Barnacle.

MR. WILLIAM B. FRATUS

Mr. Hodge
and Class President
David Crawford

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Frederick M. Hodge for his inspiring and faithful service as teacher and principal of the Barnstable High School. A teacher since 1927, he became principal in 1939. Thus for over thirty years he has guided high school students to the higher things in life. He has given unselfishly of his time and effort for the best of the school. He has always been a friend upon whom we could rely for helpfulness, good judgment, and fairness.

While we regret that he leaves us as principal, we wish to extend our very best wishes to him for success in his new position as Director of Curriculum for the Barnstable High and Junior High Schools.

SENIORS

And So The Fates Decreed . . .

In 1951 we found ourselves at the foot of Mount Olympus. Eagerly we began the long climb to the top to be among the deities. They welcomed us by having an undefeated football team that year; to keep us in our place, so it seemed, they allowed us to join only the band and orchestra. No extra-curricular activities would be open to us until the ninth grade. We didn't really care, because we were too busy trying to keep up with the fast pace on the Mount and to avoid the big feet of the gigantic deities.

The next year we formed the '57 Club, with Mr. James Sykes acting as chief god, and put on the Sadie Hawkins dance. This was our first attempt at working together and we did very well. In the earlier part of the year we were saddened by the death of Dean Holmes. We ended the eighth grade with a picnic at Dowse's Point.

Our ninth grade year was filled with firsts. For the first time we were allowed to choose our courses and subjects, take the Iowa tests, and join the Junior Varsity teams and the Traffic Squad. Mrs. Blanche Waldman was our advisor, and under her direction we put on the Freshman Frolic. It was during this year that Jane Watts and David Crawford were chosen Ship's Belle and Buoy.

With Mr. James Sykes as our advisor once again, we began the tenth grade. For the first time, we were really accepted as a part of the senior high. We began the year by electing class officers who were Edwin Jenkins, president; Paul Germani, vice president; Jane Watts, treasurer; and Jean Bearse, secretary. Members of our class whom we elected to the Student Council were June Richards and Nancy Desmond.

The National Honor Society was formed that year with Mr. John J. Kilcoyne as its sponsor. Representatives from our class were Nancy Desmond, Suzanne Gallant, Benjamin Sandler, David Weaver, and Robert Williams.

Another first was the Barnstable High School book cover which Laurel Adams helped design and which we sold to earn money. Our biggest and most exciting project was the Sophomore Hop, centering on the theme, "Up in the Clouds." We ran a poster contest with a prize to be given to whoever made the best poster. The winner was Joanne Moda. We elected a King and Queen who were Jane Watts and David Crawford.

At the end of the year we went to Sandy Neck for our class picnic.

Our junior year was perhaps the most exciting of them all, for we obtained our class rings, made by the Balfour Company and designed by Brooks Kelley. We elected class officers with David Crawford, president; Harry Petrides, vice-president; Anne Sanford, secretary; and Jane Watts, treasurer. Junior class members in the Student Council were Joyce Richards, Suzanne Gallant, and Nancy Desmond.

The Key and Chess Clubs were formed with Mr. Arnold Rogean as advisor of the former and Mr. Vernon Coleman advisor of the latter. Elected to Boys' State were Robert Williams and Daniel Dillon. Danny, being unable to attend, was replaced by Larry Hadfield.

Our main project was the Junior Prom, held in the auditorium which was beautifully decorated to go with our theme "Moonlight and Roses." Music was by Ken Reeves and his orchestra. The Queen was Bonnie MacSwan with Joyce Richards and Jane Watts as attendants. Committees were as follows: Edwin Jenkins, General Chairamn; Carol Campbell, Refreshments; Bonnie MacSwan, Decorations; Laurel Shaughnessy, Tickets; and Pieter White, Music.

September 6, 1956 was a day marked on our calendar, for it was then that we reached the top of Mount Olympus. Jupiter was replaced by Mr. Harry Vatousiou, who has given much time and hard work to make our senior year successful. We elected the same class officers as in our junior year and again elected last year's members of the Student Council along with a new member, Joanne Moda.

In order to earn money we held a magazine subscription campaign with Miss M. Louise Hayden in charge. A prize was given to Nancy Wentzel, who sold the most subscriptions. We put on two dances—the Harvest Hop and the Victory Dance to which the Falmouth football team and cheerleaders were invited. Chairman of the Football Banquet, another project, was Suzanne Gallant. Still another project was the Variety Show directed by Miss Katherine Nehubian.

Chief Marshal of the Traffic Squad our senior year was Robert Williams, with Nancy Desmond, Suzanne Gallant, and Paul Germani as Floor Marshals. Junior Rotarians were Robert Williams and Bradbury Mitchell, and in charge of "The Platter Party" at WOCB on Wednesdays were Nancy Desmond, Leonor de Mattos, and Michael O'Neill.

All in all, we have had a wonderful six years together. It seems strange to leave Mount Olympus, now, when we have finally reached the top.

Nancy Desmond
Deanna Eggleston

When the goddess Fifty-seven was a rosy child, she played childish games at the feet of Jupiter and Juno. She has a house of her own where she studied and worked and played merry games. But when Jupiter decreed that she must make better use of her great powers, she gladly gave up her house, which was called Barnstable High School, and her duties and merry games to the next generation on Mount Olympus. Then she went gaily into the world to seek her fortune. Her will has been carefully preserved to this day, and it reads as follows:

We, being of sound collective mind, of our own free will leave Barnstable High School to the Junior High School, which will take over our old haunts. We bequeath to next year's high school students a brand new building. Personal legacies follow:

Harry Aalto leaves his cowboy suit to Louise Michelson.

Karl Aittaniemi and Donald Ashley bequeath their weightlifting to Franky Thomas and Peter Field.

Lee Alvin leaves her "I hate Elvis" button to Nancy Hall.

Robert Anderson leaves French to the Frenchmen.

Joseph Cairns leaves his water skis to Inez O'Neil.

Marcella Furey leaves her flashing eyes to Eartha Kitt.

SENIOR CLASS

JOHN DAVID CRAWFORD

"He, only like himself, is second unto none."

A quick grin and a ready laugh—and there's our good friend and class president. Dave's fine character seems to bring out the best in everyone. He has won himself tremendous popularity that has grown steadily throughout the school and will remain deeply rooted in the memories of his classmates. Dave has made as wholehearted an effort in our class affairs as he has in playing goalie on our brand new soccer team. We should feel especially indebted to him for his tireless work in making our class a success.

HARRY GEORGE PETRIDIS

"Care will kill a cat; therefore let's be merry."

Since Harry only looks at the bright side of life, there's never a dark moment with him around. Harry is forever eager for fun and is therefore a welcome addition to any crowd. He's quite the comedian and frequently comes out with some choice bits of wit. Harry, as well as being our class vice-president, avidly participates in sports. We'd say Harry has a lot to offer.

ANNE LOUISE SANFORD

"How many love your moments of glad grace!"

Whoever said that one can show nothing better than a cheerful smile must have been thinking of Anne. As our class secretary she has been very efficient and helpful. Anne's gracious personality, combined with consideration for others, has made her well-liked by all. Always ready for a good time, her gay laugh can be heard in many a crowd.

JANE FLORENCE WATTS

"She smiled, and the clouds departed."

Jane is that exuberant blonde whose versatility is shown by her outstanding list of activities. Her earnest enthusiasm has made her a steady supporter of our school. She has been our capable class treasurer and also our very vivacious head majorette. Never seen in an angry mood, she has acquired a retinue of friends and has become one of the brightest personalities in our class.

of Barnstable High School,

HARRY WALTER AALTO

"This puckish lad, industrious farmer, He's been a top ranking student in agriculture."

Harry has worked seriously in the Agricultural Course and has made many friends there and elsewhere. For several years he has been an active member of the Cotuit Grange. He has combined business with pleasure in his work with the Massachusetts Rough Riders, Inc. and with the stable of horses on his farm. Though short stories do interest him very much, outdoor work, centering around the care and management of horses, satisfies his desire for real enjoyment the most. In the future Harry may do either landscaping or duty in the armed forces.

KARL WILLIAM AITTANIEMI

"Custom hath made in him a property of easiness."

Karl has a husky build, reddish-brown curly hair, and a gentleman's manners. At times he seems to have an impassive expression, yet in all reality he is truly cheerful as his contagious smile and the twinkle in his eyes prove. As far as sports go, "IKE" enjoys boxing, and car and boat racing. His other interests go from Explorer Scouts, to tinkering with cars, to flying, with himself at the controls of a small air craft. He wants to make engineering his career.

LEE ALVIN

"Rich in good works."

"The best cosmetic in the world is an active mind that is always finding something new." Lee finds deep satisfaction in knowledge for its own sake. With a warm sensitivity she gets the most that her teachers have to offer. Her friendly inquisitiveness, combined with tact, makes her an unusually interesting person to know. Loud cheers to an individual!

DONALD JAMES ASHLEY

"The look composed, and steady eye, bespeak a steady constancy."

It makes no difference whether you are sad or glad when you meet with Donald, for his gentle satire of you and life around him makes you much happier than you were before. The joyous flavor he adds to any group makes him a must for a friend. He is an excellent soccer man and is a fine hunting and fishing sportsman. Baseball and auto mechanics are among his many enjoyments. He likes reading historical adventure stories the most. Don has made no choice yet as to what career he would like to follow in the future.

Baseball 4; Soccer 4; Senior Variety Show 4.

JAMES FRANCIS AYLMEYER

"An athlete in every sense of the word."

This tall, husky fellow co-captained our football team this season. Under heavy brown eyebrows are seen a pair of eyes seemingly full of innocent merriment, yet containing a good amount of mischievousness. It takes only a few of his witty remarks in a classroom to make everyone present break into smiles and laughter. Jim's plans for the future include a college education.

MARY ANN BAXTER

"Good nature and good sense are her companions."

One of the first-rate students in the business course, Mary Ann has worked hard on many school projects such as typing the poliomyelitis cards. She has also worked on the typing staff of the Barnacle. Her interests range from basketball to horror movies which she really enjoys. With her outstanding record in the business course and an agreeable disposition, Mary Ann will become a fine secretary.

CLAIRE MARIE BOUCHARD

"A companion that is cheerful is worth gold."

Claire is a vivacious little miss who can be gay one minute and serious the next. Here is one girl with set ambitions and determination. It certainly can't be said that she is one of few words, for if she feels strongly about a subject, she will quite readily voice her opinion. Claire is headed for Becker Junior College to prepare for a business career as an accountant.

MURIEL GLADYS BRITO

"I love life and life loves me."

Here is a girl of medium height whose slinness makes her light on her feet. Thus Muriel is one of the girls admired by Barnstable's basketball fans. Her avid interest in Rock 'n Roll cannot be overlooked. If she had her way, life would probably consist of singing and dancing to Rock 'n Roll and collecting records.

RUSSELL JOSEPH BRITO

"Optimism is life's buoyancy."

Russell is that fellow with a boxer's build who strides through each day with head erect and merry eyes lighting his way. Football is top sport with him, but it is through his activity in track that his Olympic skills in high jumping and other field events have given proof of his ability in sports. Russ takes an avid interest in collecting Rock 'n Roll records and in reading historical literature. He is planning to enter the Air Force after graduation.

"A smile is a great asset."

Joe has a smile on his lips, merriment in his eyes, and a lean athlete's build. His friends see him as a fellow worth knowing well and as a person who can be firm of purpose when he determines to do so. This boy has taken basketball, water skiing, and mystery stories to his heart. He has worked as an able stock boy during summer vacations. His mind is not made up as to what career he would like to make his own.

Dick, a new-comer to Barnstable High, can certainly be commended for bringing with him a pleasant personality and a good scholastic record. Right from the start, he has shown an interest in fellow classmates and thus has acquired numerous friends. After graduation Dick plans a career in business.

"A many-sided mind is ripe for any prize."

Brad, who has handsome brown hair with an attractive wave to it, is a tall fellow, clever and modest. Although serious in his work, he is jolly and gay among his numerous friends. He is never too busy to take time to hear a friend's problems; often he comes up with a solid solution to that person's difficulty. For several years he has been a member of the band to which he has given his utmost support. His outside interests include volley ball, Key Club, and tinkering with radios. It is his strong desire to study music and to become a music teacher.

JOANNE MODA

"Strong is the soul, and wise and beautiful."

Joanne has caused many a male head to turn. One of the most attractive girls in our class, "Jo" possesses brains as well as classic beauty. Even-tempered and composed, Joanne has always been a steadfast student and friend. She has decidedly made herself useful to the class because she's always at its service helping out, whether it be selling hot dogs at the concession stands or using her artistic talent in making dance decorations.

In Memoriam

Elliott Bancroft MacSwan, Jr.
1943 - 1956

His Were 13 Wonderful Years

Why it was that Fate should single out such a fine lad as Kirk MacSwan is a futile question. We of faith can do no more than accept such tragedy as the will of God—and carry on.

A natural at any sport, Kirk had the competitive heart and seemed destined to go further. Active in his church, Boy Scouts, mascot, and assistant football manager, he was a good sport, a great all-around boy and regarded by his class mates and teachers as a fine leader.

We know the memory of Kirk will be kept alive in the hearts of all those who knew him.

And Thus Spake Cassandra

That we might proclaim the future of our fellow classmates, Pat, Sally, Eva, and I arrived at the oracle at Delphi. There we received the golden bough to admit us to Avernus where we were to meet Apollo, god of the future.

Cerberus guided us safely past the five rivers of the underworld; and as we stepped through the gates of Hades, we were welcomed by Apollo who then predicted our futures.

One glance into the future and we knew that many of our classmates would be going into the field of entertainment. Harry Aalto will take Roy Roger's place on TV, Deanna Eggleston will be singing for the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Eva Holway discovered that she would be accompanying Deanna. Marcella Furey will be singing on TV, and it looks as if she'll put Eartha Kitt out of business. Jimmy Hallett will be playing his trombone with Ray Anthony's band, while Pieter White is going to be stuck in the cornfield playing his trumpet. It looks as if George Lewis will take over Uncle Miltie's spot on TV, and Nicky Joakim will be demonstrating Remington Razors. Nelson Littlefield will be running a dance studio in New York, and Brad Mitchell will be close by, playing in the Philharmonic.

One of the most popular singing groups around the country will be "Tobey's Trompin' Trio" headed, of course, by Nat Tobey with Russ Brito and Duke Fernandes joining him. At special club dates Betty Kearney will be guest vocalist. Leonor de Mattos will be voted the most popular DJ in the U. S. in 1967. Marlon Brando is through, and Ken Marney will be taking his place. Mike O'Neill will be running Steve Allen's show.

And Thus Spake Cassandra

Apollo then pointed out to us the members of our class who would be stars in the field of sports. He projected on his magic TV screen a soccer field in London, England where we saw Donald Ashley score another game-winning goal for the London Laddies. Watching the game was Alfred Crocker who had just returned from Switzerland where he had just won an International Yodeling Contest, and Harrie De Mers who was drinking soda pop which he had just purchased at Dick Middleton's refreshment concession. Our TV screen then hitched a ride on Joe Cairns' water skis as he set a world record, water-skiing from Europe to the United States. Aside from the spray on our screen we received Boston quite clearly and viewed a Celtics game in which Allen Ellis, captain, Walter Lewis, and William Dixon were racking up another win against the New York Knickerbockers. A news bulletin took us to California where we saw Mike Shields, coach of the Los Angeles Rams, send Bob Buck and David Swift, Herman Hickman's proteges, onto the muddy field to save the game.

In California we also saw Jessie Anderson and Jean Bearse in a grueling softball game in which both girls hit home runs. Then came a film showing Sandra Cottle winning the grand prize at the Indianapolis Speedway. Suddenly, the screen blacked out!

While Apollo went for a repairman, we glanced through a pile of newspapers and magazines. I picked up a future copy of the Cape Cod Standard Times, Robert Anderson, editor, who had the famous 200-word-a-minute typist, Linda Burlingame, on his staff. On the society page I found that there had been a fashion show sponsored by Miss Janet Buckler, Cape Cod's famous millionairess. Linda Libbey, "Miss Cape Cod of 1967," was first to walk the ramp, wearing an explosive creation by Joanne Moda, head designer at the H-Bomb plant. Then came Gail Reid who was modeling one of Wayne Van Buren's recently manufactured sleeveless coats. Jane Watts and Joyce Walcott, both Powers Models, displayed coiffeurs created by Marion Roderick and David Chapman of Fifth Avenue, and gowns originated by Margaret Jones, Ceil Chapman's protégée. Arlene Souza and Laurel Shaughnessy made their last appearance before leaving for Kentucky, modeling two of the latest fashions predicted to be tops by Sandra Sears, editor of Vogue.

June Richards, Max Factor's assistant, was in charge of make-up. Jane MacIntosh, "Miss Country Clubber," introduced a few of the celebrities seated in the audience: Nancy Wentzel, supersonic saleswoman, who gave a pep talk on Peter Chickering's Bermuda shorts for knock-kneed women; Mary Ellen Horgan, famous artist of Paris; John Ohrn, "Mr. Joe College"; Nancy Jackson, most popular teacher of 1967; Francoise Jaillet, lounge decorator at the new Cotuit High School; Bonnie MacSwan, Hedda Hopper's right-hand woman, and Bonnie's secretary, Rachel Ryder.

The program was brought to a quick close by a conflagration in the basement. Someone called the Nurses' Rescue Squad, Wanda Johnson, president, and she sent Muriel Brito, Diane Buckley, and Carolyn Mackie. Luckily, they were not needed, for the blaze was quickly quelled by Richard Clough, a professional fireman, and Ralph Childs, Miss Buckler's landscape gardener.

Turning the page we found Della Sousa's Gossip Column. The column stated that Charles Rogers had gone hog-wild with a hammer, Anne Sanford had been voted most popular house mother at Tufts, and that Mary Wallace and Sally Stringer were still trying to psychoanalyze Mr. Jaillet. Ann Cox, Richard Watson, and Billy Johnson were serving Uncle Sam. We learned that P. J. Harrell had finally won an argument Long Live New York! At that time, Carol Campbell was resting her fingers after a week of strenuous typing—all the typing for Life magazine.

Turning to the comic page we found our favorite comic, "Harold the Horror" by Wayne Barrow, under which was a Stop & Shop advertisement showing the meat values—Richard Holmes, head of the meat department, and vegetable values, David Henderson, produce manager. There was a two-page ad of the grand opening of "Paul's Polished Pontiac Shop" owned and operated by Paul Nugnes, with William Chase head mechanic. There was a picture of Joyce Richards playing the part of Fury Castle, and on the last page, a Beauty Rest ad with Bruce Reid sleeping and still showing that he likes to sleep.

In the magazine, Furturama, Sally found a page entitled "Grand Slam Successes of 1967" on which were pictures of the following stars of the business world: Gail Bassett, president of the "Cape Cod Cranberry Pickers Association"; David Bryant, recently elected president of Skippy Peanut Butter; Paul Ojala, Einstein the second, who planned to will his brain to science; Pat Toas, head of Cape Cod Hospital; Robert Williams, famous criminal lawyer, with the aid, of course, of his private secretary, Mary Ann Baxter; Lee Alvin, head of Centerville's new hospital; Peter Dudley, vice-president of Adler's Elevator Shoes; Sally Durgin, head of all the telephone operators in the United States; Carolee Howes, chief engineer building a bridge from the United States to Europe; David Crawford, winner of the Nobel Prize in Medicine; James Aylmer, head professor of mathematics at Harvard; and Pat Stein and Gail Pierce, partners in the Centerville Secretarial School, which has as its top students this year, Eva Souza and Sally Souza graduating cum laude.

Apollo dashed in to tell us that the television repairman was on the way, and we decided, rather than wait, to take the basketball jet engineered by Larry Hadfield with Edith Coy, flight nurse, and Pat Erwin and Sally Casey, stewardesses, to Washington, D. C. John Swift, the jet starter, took us to our national capital. As we opened the door of the jet, we saw Carl Ferdensi busy trying to figure out how the plane had been constructed. Danny Dillon, Secretary of the Navy, greeted us at the White House; and inside we were officially welcomed by Paul Germani, Secretary of the Treasury, and his bookkeeper, Elizabeth Marceline. Sitting in a chair of honor next to the President was Tommy Olsen, polishing his B.H.S. good conduct metal. Coming out of the War Department, we saw Harry Petridis in charge of Greek Guerilla Warfare. On the floor of the Senate was Suzanne Gallant filibustering; and looking on was Nancy Desmond, head diplomat at the U.N. and Donald Kreiton, Spanish interpreter. Frank Korpela interrupted Sue to sell Hi Fi hearing aids to all the deaf listeners. A gust of wind blew the door open, and Eddie Goode and Freddie Shepard marched in with the militia. They were followed by Gordon Irwin and John Reid, both senators from Cotuit Congress; Donna St. Peter, president of the Officers' Wives' Club at Otis Air Base; David Weaver, head of Barnstable County Extension Service; Marcia Stevens, Barnstable Selectwoman; and Ann Michelson, head of Civil Service in East Overshoe. Sue McNutt gave passes for her new motel in Cairo to all the new arrivals, and Phil Greene gave out passes for the Nantucket boat on which he runs a concession. With Charles Williams to tell us stories, we headed home on a super highway which runs from Cape Cod to California and was constructed by Robert Verkade.

On the way home we passed through Murphyville where Pat Murphy defeated Christian Dior in the lengthening of gowns. We stopped for lunch at Claire Bouchard's Pizza Palace and met Janet Morrison, famous archeologist. The mayor, Mary Frazier, came over to our table to introduce us to one of Murphyville's dignitaries—Barbara Bacon, who has discovered an easy polio shot method and Jean Robinson, her secretary.

A zooming overhead made us look up in time to see Karl Aittaniemi take off into the wild blue yonder flying Kathy Oldfield's private plane to the land of sunshine. And perched on the wing was Brenda Savery, our guardian angel, watching over all.

Passing through the time barrier, we arrived at B.H.S. in time for graduation. There we saw all our classmates dreaming of the day in the near future when this prophesy would come true.

Hi there!

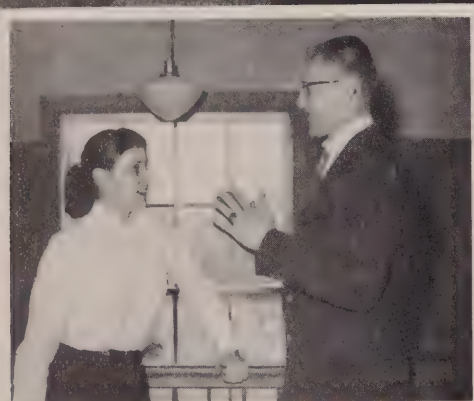

What's new?

ACTIVITIES

National Honor Society

To be a member of the Honor Society is a great honor, for a student must meet difficult qualifications. Scholastically, a student must receive a grade of A in 75 per cent of his grades from 9th grade on, with a grade of B in the remaining subjects. A student who has had only one C in grades nine through twelve may be admitted his senior year. The aims of the group are Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. The faculty advisor is Mr. John J. Kilcoyne.

Key Club

The Key Club, a junior branch of Kiwanis, selects its members from sophomore, junior, and senior boys who are considered outstanding in character, scholarship, and leadership. The objectives are to provide experience in living and working together, to prepare the boys for useful citizenship, and to serve the nation and God, the school and community.

The slate of officers for 1956-1957 was: Nicholas Joakim, president; Robert Buck, vice-president; Irwin Rovner, secretary; and Bruce Childs, treasurer. In May, the 1957-1958 officers took over. They are: Donald Richards, president; Barry Crawford, vice-president; Irwin Rovner, secretary; and Bruce Childs, treasurer.

The Clipper

The Clipper, our only school magazine, is published twice a year. It covers all activities, including sports, dances, assembly programs, and all the school chatter. This year the Clipper is being changed from magazine to newspaper form, but the articles will still be of the same type. Deanna Eggleston is editor-in-chief, and Susan McNutt is assistant editor with Miss Amelia Leconte as faculty advisor. Miss Barbara Days and her typing class are responsible for the typing.

The students say . . .

Student Council

The Student Council is made up of nine students. Two are elected from the tenth grade, three from the eleventh grade, and four from the twelfth grade. Their activities include acting as ushers at the annual Open House, officiating at the Class elections, and appointing the chief marshal and floor marshals for the traffic squad. This year Nancy Desmond was elected president. She takes charge of the various functions and presides over the meetings.

This Barnacle is the record of the Class of 1957 of Barnstable High School. Within these covers there is much that will bring back to us pleasant memories of the friendships and experiences of our high school years.

We have chosen Mythology for our theme. Perhaps as you look through the book, you will find yourself among the gods and goddesses of Mount Olympus or in the serene Elysian Fields. Class Play

The Senior Class play, "Crime Photographer," by Steven Bristol, was presented April 11 in an afternoon performance, and on April 12 and 13 in the evening.

The play, a thrilling mystery comedy in three acts, was cast by Mrs. W. O. St. Coeur and was directed by Mr. Elliott B. MacSwan.

Front: R. DeMoranville, G. Lamminen, S. Bowes, S. Chase, Mr. Gesin, S. Crawford, L. Pelder, R. Jones, A. Doyle. Middle: L. Whiteley, J. Greene, B. Atwood, E. Pyy, M. Frazier, A. Frazier, J. Orchestra

The orchestra, like the band and the chorus, is under the capable direction of Mr. Simon Gesin. Mr. Gesin has been particularly pleased with the increased number of students who play stringed instruments this year. The orchestra has had an opportunity to display its skill during May Music Week and at graduation.

Traffic Squad

The main job of our traffic squad is to keep order in the halls, while students are passing from one class to another, and to see that newcomers do not get lost. Only students who are on the honor roll are eligible to serve on the traffic squad which is headed by Robert Williams. New members are chosen each term from students who meet these requirements. This year Robert Williams is chief marshal, assisted by Paul Germani, Nancy Desmond, and Suzanne Gallant as floor marshals.

As usual the snappy and immaculate B.H.S. Band, under the expert direction of Mr. Simon Gesin, was a big success in arousing school spirit at football games.

Its splendid precision, headed by head major-ette Jane Watts, was indeed a spectacle to look forward to during each half.

The band also played in the Variety Show and played and marched in Veterans' Day and Memorial Day parades.

The Barnstable High School chorus consists of approximately one hundred members effectively directed by Mr. Simon Gesin. Activities this year have included a Christmas program presented for both junior and senior high school students, and again for the Hyannis Rotary Club. The chorus also presented a concert in the Spring and will offer special music for graduation.

Line buck.

The Raiders warm up.

The 1956 football season started with only nineteen players reporting for the team, but Coach Pendleton turned his inexperienced squad into a powerful eleven which was later named the top team on the Cape.

Michael Shields and James Aylmer were elected co-captains.

In their first three games, B.H.S. defeated Coyle 7-0; tied New Bedford High 6-6; and smashed New Bedford Voke 19-0.

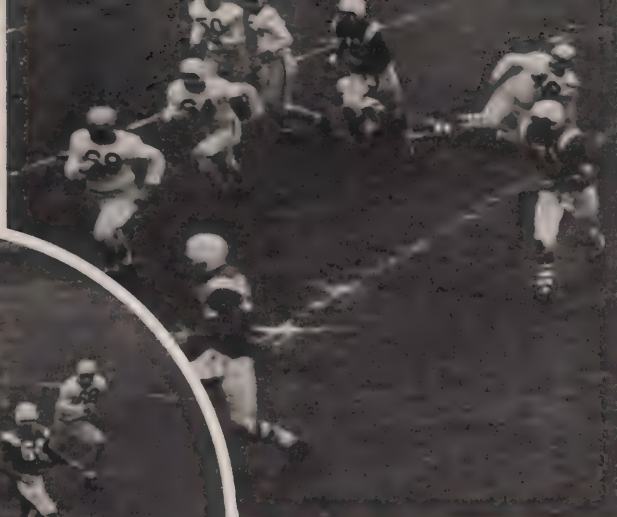

The Red Raiders then went on to lose three in a row by bowing to Fairhaven 12-6; then being defeated by Wareham 26-6; and losing to Hingham High 7-0 in a hard-fought contest.

The Raiders then swept their last two games of the season by defeating Plymouth 19-14 and by overpowering a favored Falmouth team 14-7.

Individual honors went to Michael Shields, James Aylmer, and Craig Hopkins who were named to the All-State roster. In addition Michael Shields received the twenty-first Hinkle Trophy and James Aylmer was awarded a plaque in recognition of his fine play.

Coach Pendleton surveys the situation.

With the introduction of soccer as a new sport, the B.H.S. soccer team, captained by Donald Ashley, enjoyed a moderately successful season.

The team finished the season in third place in the Cape's new soccer league by compiling a record of three victories, one loss, and one tie.

Seniors on the squad were Donald Ashley, James Hallett, David Crawford, Peter Dudley, and Philip Greene.

Front: D. Crawford, J. Hallett, D. Ashley, P. Dudley, D. Bryant.

Middle: R. Anderson, C. Dillon, D. Pina, G. Nelson, C. Howes.

Back: S. Sremniak, P. Kenneally, G. Thew, M. McDonough, G. Pye.

SOCCER

Led by co-captains Allen Ellis and John Swift the Red Raiders compiled a record of four wins and four losses in the Large School League, to finish in third place.

Barnstable High opened the season by losing to New Bedford Voke 89-56 and then losing to Provincetown 61-36 in the first league game.

The Raiders won their next three games by defeating Orleans 59-54, rolling over Falmouth 63-54, and squeaking by Yarmouth 58-55.

In their next three encounters, Barnstable High copped one out of three by losing to Bourne 57-43, being defeated by Harwich 73-60, and by gaining a victory over Chatham 58-50.

The Raiders then defeated Provincetown 48-46, lost to Falmouth 59-49, and crushed Yarmouth 69-57.

Barnstable High split its last two games by losing to Bourne 70-68 and by outplaying Harwich 61-52.

Swift and Aylmer rush the basket.

Front: J. Aylmer, T. Olsen, J. Swift, A. Ellis, J. Ohrn, W. Lewis, N. Joakim, P. Germani. Middle: F. Thomas, G. Williams, P. Stringer, T. Lively, D. Pina, H. Lawrence, D. Richards, F. Maki. Back: E. Butler, R. Lebel, P. Brune, K. O'Neil, P. Vendt, C. Hopkins, G. Igo, P. Kenneally.

GIRLS'

M. Brito takes the ball.

The Raiderettes again produced one of the best girls' basketball teams on the Cape. The team's spirit was exemplified in the first game against Provincetown. The score was tied as Provincetown gained the ball with only seconds remaining. Prudy Joseph scored a field goal for two points at the buzzer and the score read Provincetown 47—Barnstable 45! In spite of the loss, it was perhaps the most exciting and enjoyable game of the year as the teams were so closely matched.

Under the expert leadership of Miss Katherine Nehubian, coach, our first team—Anne Sanford, Sandra Sears, Nancy Desmond, Muriel Brito, Bonnie MacSwan, and Sally Stringer, placed third in the Large School League with nine wins and four losses.

SHOPPING FOR A JOB?

CHECK WHAT YOU WANT:

- ☐ *Good starting salary
with regular raises*
- ☐ Pleasant work with other girls and young men
- ☐ Prestige of a responsible job with a well-known and respected company

If your list shows three checks, then you should check into what the Telephone Company has to offer you. Smart girls are doing it now, before they graduate from high school. Come in and see our employment interviewer soon. You'll enjoy talking with her.

Act now, and you can say with pride, "I'm all set! I'm going to work with the Telephone Company!"

See the Guidance Counselor at your school, and talk first with her about when and where to apply.
